This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. # REPORT TO LIBRARIAN.

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE, NOVEMBER 27, 1871.

MRS. PARALEE HASKELL, STATE LIBRARIAN:

Madam—I have the honor to submit to you the Catalogue of the GENERAL AND LAW LIBRARY OF THE STATE, as prepared by me, under your directions, during the last six months. I held my first interview with you on the subject on the 10th of June, and shortly afterwards commenced the work of arranging the books. This occupied me, with the assistance of Mr. WESTERFIELD, for six weeks. I then proceeded to form a catalogue, first transcribing the names of the books in the building, and afterwards transferring them to the catalogues. The first of these is ALPHABETICAL, and shows the full name of each work, its size, number of volumes, and place and date of publication; also, the whole number of each book in tne Library, and the name of case and shelf in which it is to be found. The second, or CLASSIFIED catalogue, gives again the titles of the books, but in an abbreviated form, and displays the numbers and characters of the books on the various branches of Literature and Science. The Scheme of Classification prefixed to the second Catalogue will sufficiently explain itself. I have endeavored to follow such a system as would best agree with the character of the books now in the Library, and allow the addition of future volumes, without creating a necessity for additional heads. Books of a miscellaneous character have been placed either in the position demanded by their principal subject, or under the heads of "Periodical Literature" and "Encyclopædias."

The method of using the Catalogue is as follows: If the name of the author of the book is known, it will readily be found in the Alphabetical Catalogue. In the case of Biographies, the subject of the biography has been used as a leading name in preference to that of the author. If a book is sought for on a particular subject, then the second part of the Catalogue is to be used. The words printed in capitals refer to the same works in the Alphabetical Catalogue, which being consulted, the description of the book, and its number and place in the Library, will be ascertained at a glance. The arrangement will be found a simple and readily acquired one.

When I commenced my work in the Library, I found that the books were not arranged on any system whatever, and that the foreign works were placed by themselves, without any regard to their subjects, in the most remote corners of the upper corridors. The first duty I had to perform was to get the different classes of books together, and then to arrange them systematically. At the same time, I had to consider the character of the books principally consulted, so as to place them in a convenient position for reference, and also to secure such a plan as would make the central hall as attractive, both to the eye and to the general visitor and reader, as possible. I also readily assented to your suggestion of placing the Law Library by itself, in the north room, where its shelves can be consulted by the lawyers of the State with comfort and quiet. The general plan is as follows: The North-west room, or Librarian's reception room, contains the collections of Periodical Literature, Reviews and Pamphlets, and the works relating to Libraries and Bibliography. These are arranged on two sides of the room, and the third side is devoted to Theology and Philosophy. The necessary conversation in the Librarian's office, to which this portion of the building is devoted, will not interfere with the consulters of these books. The central hall contains, first, Encyclopædias, Gazetteers, and Dictionaries, in such positions as they can be readily consulted; then Belles Lettres, English, American, French, and German, and Biographical works. In the arrangement of this room I have been governed both by the size of the shelving and a desire to make the whole attractive to the eye. The South room is the Law Library. The various Laws, Digests, and Reports, are arranged alphabetically by States, and placed at a convenient height from the floor. The Reports of the English Parliament and High Courts, Congressional Debates, and Reports of Trials, are placed on the upper shelves. The North-east corner contains the Law Text-books, and near the fire-place, a full set of the Public Documents of Tennessee. The first corridor—beginning at Case A, and ending at Case N—contains Historical works, arranged as in the Catalogue, Geography and Travels, the Natural and Physical Sciences, Domestic Economy and Arts, and terminates with Medical and Surgical works. The Cases marked TT, on the roof of the reception-room, contain the files of newspapers, French and English, the Congressional Globes, and American State Archives. The second or upper corridor is almost entirely devoted to the Public Documents of the United States, and of the various States of the Union. The last three cases, however, contain the works on Education and the Greek and Latin Classics.

There are almost 4,000 volumes in the upper corridor, about 3,000 in the lower, about 3,000 in the central hall, 4,500 in the Law, and 4,000 in the north room—18,500 in all. More exactly, the number of volumes, on the day on which this Catalogue went to press, was 18,383. To this we must add 128 volumes in the hands of the Judges of the Supreme Court, and deduct 138 volumes loaned out and not returned; making 18,373 volumes now on the shelves. There are also, I learn, a number of volumes, perhaps 150, now in the hands of the Book-binder. These are chiefly volumes of Magazines and Reviews, and some of them have not been enumerated in this Catalogue, as I was only accidentally made aware of their existence a few days ago. I trust that the arrangement and the Catalogue will give you satisfaction.

I must be permitted, in explanation, to say that the Public Printers have no fount of type suitable for the printing of foreign languages. On this account

I have been unable to exhibit the proper accents of French words, the vowel-marks of the German language, the French cedilla, and the Spanish circumflex. I trust that those scholars who understand the value and necessity of these marks, will not attribute their absence to ignorance or carelessness on my part.

I cannot conclude without expressing to you my high sense of gratitute for the constant kindness and consideration which you have shown me during my labors at the Capitol, and my pleasure at witnessing the earnestness and efficient zeal which you have exhibited in your new sphere of labor. Nor can I overlook the efficient and cheerful co-operation of the excellent assistant you supplied me with in the person of Mr. THOMAS WESTERFIELD. Praying that a long career of usefulness and success is before you, I have the honor to be, madam,

Your obedient servant,

GEORGE S. BLACKIE, M. D.

LIBRARY OF THE STATE OF TENNESSEE.

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE, MARCH 11, 1871.

DR. WM. H. WHARTON, State Librarian:

DEAR SIR.—Our attention having been called to the condition of the Library, and the fact that books are taken from it without authority, we call your attention to the Code, pages 941–943, which absolutely prohibits any person, other than a Member of the Legislature, from taking any book from the General Library, and only giving them the power during the session. This does not give them any power to allow others to take books. The Judges of the Supreme Court only are allowed to take out a book for any purpose. Other Judges, and Lawyers, must consult them in the Library. The numerous losses already occurring, require the Rules to be strictly enforced, if the Library is to be made of use to any one.

Our attention being just called to the provisions of the Code and the Acts of March 7, 1868, Chapter XXXIII., we hereby revoke all general orders passed by us, or either of us, for the loan of books, and as we understand that many of the sets are broken, we direct you to call in as many of the books loaned as possible; and also, to make out, and cause to be printed, without delay, a full Catalogue of all the books on hand, with reference to the parts of the Library in which they may be found.

Yours respectfully,

A. O. P. NICHOLSON, S. J.,
THOMAS A. R. NELSON,
JOHN L. T. SNEED,
JAMES W. DEADERICK,
THOMAS J. FREEMAN,
P. TURNEY.

LAWS IN RELATION TO THE LIBRARY.

CODE, 940—945.

ACTS 1859-60, CHAPTER LIII., FEB. 14, 1860.

SECTION 1. BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF TENNESSEE, That for the purpose of carrying out the object of this Act, which is to increase the State Library, there shall be annually appropriated, out of the Treasury of the State, the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars.

SEC. 2. The duty of carrying on the exchange of books and documents with the Governments of the States and Territories of the Union and Foreign countries, and with Societies and Institutions, now performed by the Secretary of State, is hereby transferred to the Librarian, who may, from time to time, procure from said Governments, Societies, and Institutions, their Documents, Laws, Judicial Decisions, and Publications, by exchanging those of the State for the same.

SEC. 3. To enable the Librarian to make these exchanges, in addition to the number of copies of the Laws, Public Documents, and Decisions, ordered by the Legislature to be printed for home distribution, one hundred copies shall be printed for the Library, and be delivered to the Librarian.

ACTS 1866-7, CHAPTER XXXII., ENACTED MARCH 7, 1867.

SECTION 1. BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF TENNESSEE, That the Governor of the State of Tennessee, and the Judges of the Supreme Court of the State of Tennessee, shall be, and are hereby, constituted a Board of Commissioners to superintend and control the Library of the State, with power to make all necessary and proper Rules for its government.

SEC. 2. That the annual appropriation for the purchase of books shall be expended under the direction of said Board, and for such books as said Board may direct.

SEC. 3. That the salary of the Librarian shall be one thousand dollars a year.

SEC. 4. That the Librarian shall report to said Board, which shall report to the General Assembly, at each session, the condition of the Library, and a catalogue of baoks purchased.
